Dear Mr. Adelman:

I am making a Website where I will post photographs from an event that Newport Harbor High School hosts as a fundraiser for their school. The event is called the Harbor Heritage Run. I would like to possibly use the attached photograph on the welcoming home page. I have just been asked to do this project yesterday, therefore there is not much on the website as of yet. It will be very basic consisting only of picture thumbnails of the event which will link to the full resolution picture. I thought that your picture would be a nice opening page image.

May I please have permission to use this photograph in the described manner? I will use it exactly as is with your name and copyright information included as well as any other restriction you would like to add.

Thank you,

Rose Richardson
